

MATTIAS POLLAK

Cinematographer

Mattias Pollak is a cinematographer based in Gothenburg, Sweden. But work has taken him all across Europe. His interest lies mostly in fiction, especially drama and human interaction. With experience ranging all the way from DOP on an international co produced feature film, via Indie features and short film. He like to step into the unknown, to be part of the project from the very start, or do things he never has done before. Always stretching himself to try to understand how a story should be put into pictures.
